- 1 Over here from America specially to showcase her latest high-jewellery range, PAOLA CREVOSHAY's pieces proved popular - she was hosted by fellow American Kimberley Robson-Ortiz.
- 2 Young entrepreneur JUSTIN ETZIN is here with a new project - he is in charge of Altitude, a fabulous 29th floor party-location at the Mill Bank Tower overlooking the Thames and the rest of London. He threw a lavish reception for his close friends, London's movers and shakers.
- 3 KAREN MILLEN, OBE, has already created one of the most successful and glamorous high street fashion brands, now she is behind the cancer charity, Teens Unite. Teens Unite Fighting Cancer is dedicated to improving the lives of people aged between 13-24 with life threatening illnesses. Here she is with supporter and actress CLAIRE SWEENEY.
- 4 For those who love to shop, this exhibition is a must - photographer NEIL LAWSON-BAKER takes pictures of window shops and reproduces them on canvass. His pictures Reflections of London, as part of his New Dimension, was on show at the Burlington Club in Mayfair.
- 5 Rising star designer Karen Brost marked her launch fashion collection with a celebrity show at the Firehouse members club in Kensington - socialite TAMARA BECKWITH and TOM CHAMBERS from Holby City were on the runway showing off the Autumn Winter collection.
- 6 The private view of Canadian artist BARBARA MCGIVERN's paintings at the Arts Club in Mayfair's Dover Street was indeed glittering - she uses gold leaf in her art for added richness, but celeb guests were also treated to gold leaf foaming in their champagne.
